

Let's Talk
About

THE BRANCH PODCAST

HADASSAH

SIX SUNDAYS AT 7:30 PM,

7 pm for the podcast itself prior to the discussion

JOIN US FOR ONE OR ALL SESSIONS

1 session $18, 3 sessions for $36, or the series of 6 for $60

Never heard of Hadassah's The Branch podcast? Been meaning to listen to The Branch but haven't gotten around to it? Join fellow Hadassah members and discussion leaders Mary Anne Winig, Karen Bloom, and Sandy Sidorsky for a lively and contemporary discussion of select episodes of Hadassah's interesting and timely podcast, The Branch, featuring real stories about building connections between Jews and Arabs. Don't know what a podcast is? No time to listen on your own? Don't worry! We've got you! Join us 30 minutes earlier, and we will listen to it together before the discussion.

All are welcome.

Here's our line-up for the opening series:

Sunday, January 10, 2021 at 7:30 pm - Common Ground: A Jordanian, a Palestinian and an Israeli have joined forces in the fight to save their shared environment. As the board of directors for EcoPeace Middle East, they're not willing to let pushback, regional conflict and politics stand in their way.

Sunday, February 7, 2021 at 7:30 pm - The Midwives: Amid the second wave of the COVID-19 crisis in Israel, midwives Gila Zarbiv, a Jewish Israeli, and Rahel Najwan Rasslan, an Arab Israeli, at Hadassah Hospital Ein Kerem work side by side to calm mothers bringing new life into an uncertain world.

Register Here!

Any questions, contact Ldeman@hadassah.org